

Starberry

by Corey Yoder of Coriander Quilts

“star of wonder,
star of light”

A star-filled night sky illuminates gently falling snow landing atop pine boughs and holly berries. It's the magical first snowfall of the season. No sound to be heard except for the distant baaing of sheep from the stable. A quick frosty breath and your eyes take in the midnight sky, the sparkly stars, the greens of the stately firs, and spots of red holly just visible under the blanketing snow. Starberry brings to life the beauty of the season's first snow. Rich reds, greens, and charcoal bring life to holiday flowers, sprigs of pine and holly, stars, checks, dots, and of course, sheep. Bring the magic of the season into your home this winter.
